DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 18 and 22, drawn to tissue binding peptides and a method of preparing tissue binding peptides.

Group II, claim(s) 19-21, drawn to nucleic acids coding for tissue binding peptide and the vector.

Group III, claim 23, drawn to a method of identification of tissue binding peptide.

Group IV, claims 24-37, drawn to a method of using tissue binding peptide.

Group V, claims 38-39, drawn to a composition/ pharmaceutical.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The method of preparing tissue binding peptides in Group I lacks novelty (i.e., it is anticipated by numerous prior art references)- see, e.g., Pasqualini, "Organ targeting in vivo using phage display peptide libraries" Nature, 1996, vol. 380, pp-364-366. See also, Barry, "Toward cell-targeting gene therapy vectors: selection of cell-binding peptides from random peptide-presenting phage libraries" Nature Medicine, 1996, vol. 2, no:3, pp-299-305. See also, Rajotte, "Molecular heterogeneity of the vascular endothelium revealed by in vivo phage display" J. Clin. Invest., 1998, vol. 102, no: 2, pp-430-436. Thus, the special technical feature which links the claims does not provide a contribution over the prior art (with respect to groups II-V) so unity of invention is lacking.

An international and a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. An international or a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories: (1) a product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or (2) a product and a process of use of said product; or (3) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or (4) a process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or (5) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process. If multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims of the application and the first recited invention of each of the other categories related thereto will be considered as the main invention in the claims, see PCT Article 17(3)(a) and 1.476(c).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
